

Bible Discussion Testimonies-Women

Our group started around two years ago. At our first meeting we discussed what our study guide would be, after that night we started on an eight week course. It was really good and as we got to know each other better and prayed together. We were finally at a crossroads: our study guide was complete. What to study next?

All during the eight weeks I consistently prayed that our next study would be using the bible as our only guide but I really wanted it to be someone else's idea. The night of decision came and one of the other ladies said, "could we just use only the bible this time". Wow what a wonderful answer to prayer! We have all been blessed beyond measure and our group is a wonderful group. God has given each of us a special love for one another and we're always open to having anyone join our group. This group has a wide range of ages. Jesus is leading us to a deeper understanding of his word and will for our lives. Blessings, Becky

I always love the feeling I get during and after my bible study. It is always a sense of peace. I could always feel the presence of God each and every time our group came together. I never wanted it to end. Nicole (She is now starting a weekly Bible Discussion Group over the phone with her mother and sister ... Praise God!!)

Our women's group has been meeting for about five years. We always had a hard time finding the right material for our weekly study. Often, the books and guides worked for some people but not others. Another problem was that the materials required either too much or too little study time and the questions didn't always connect to our lives or experiences. At first, we were afraid that we wouldn't have enough insight or knowledge to just open the Bible, read it, and discuss what we felt the passage said to us. Once we tried it, there was no going back! It has been incredible to learn about God's word through the insights that the women in our group share. We've grown closer to God and each other through the Bible discussion groups. We'll never have trouble finding study material again! Linda
